Travis McDevitt, deputy postmaster, is taking his vacation and Hon. B. W. Johnson is earning his salary for once. Mc has gone over to Newport with the expectation of landing a whale.

A. J. Wood, a well-to-do resident of Eugene, and two daughters visited at the home of Mrs. Locke, 4th and Jackson, the past week. They report that Eugene still continues to grow at a very rapid rate.

Ellsworth Erwin came in yesterday evening from the bay, where he has been the past two weeks. He looked more like a Comanche Indian than chief cook at O. A. C., the sun, wind, and salt spray having given him the color of a bright copper cent. The family was ashamed to come home with him so are remaining at the bay a couple of weeks longer, until Mr. Erwin bleaches out a little.

Dick Tom, night watch, is back from his Alaskan tour. He is to full of energy that he is aching for a scrap, so obstreperous violators had better be careful.

W. T. Burrell, of the city delivery system, will within a short time put on three new wagons in the place of the ones now running. His business is increasing so rapidly that he finds it necessary to do this. He will leave for Portland in a few days to purchase his wagons.

H. A. and R. M. Taylor, of Osburn, Kan., are here visiting relatives. They have their families with them and will remain some time. R. M. was here last year and liked the country very much, hence the return this year. Both gentlemen are uncles of W. K. Taylor, who has been showing them about the city.

A subscription paper is being circulated for the benefit of Chief Wells and Police Judge Denman. These gentlemen talk of going on a deer hunt shortly and friends have decided to organize the rescue campaign before the valiant hunters depart. The fund received will be used to purchase meat for them. Harley Hall is circulating the list.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Hollenberg came home from Cascadia Saturday. They had a delightful vacation and a rest that has been invigorating. There is little good hunting in the Cascadia vicinity, but excellent fishing. This resort is becoming more popular each year, twenty or more camps being in there most of the summer. The soda springs are very fine according to Mr. Hollenberg. On arrival Saturday he was surprised to discover that Corvallis is about as cool as the mountain resort he had just left.

Miss Edith Casteel, of Yaquina, is in the city visiting relatives.

The County Court will hold an adjourned term of court tomorrow. On the 21st the Circuit Court will begin an adjourned term.

Sand and gravel for a cement walk around the First National Bank is now on the ground. A McMinnville man will do this piece of work.

S. L. Shedd is back from a stay at Newport. He had a delightful recreation and was particularly pleased with the weather of the past few days.

J. E. Ensley, of Medford, is in Corvallis today. He is looking at property for sale and if he is suited with any, he may buy and move his family here.

W. K. Taylor went to Newport today to join his family. He was accompanied by H. A. Taylor and wife. The party will spend two weeks near the ocean.

The Horners are at Newport for a spell. The genial professor will come back with 4000 views of dashing breakers and food for hours of delightful entertainment. If Prof. Horner misses it, it isn't there.

Miss Addie Anderson, of Harrisburg, Ore., is visiting the Misses Nellie and Mabel Cyrus at the home of their mother. Miss Anderson has been attending the summer Normal at Albany and will return to her home at Harrisburg tomorrow (Wednesday) noon.

O. T. Murphy and a Mr. Porterfield of Independence, Ore., were in the city this morning. Both these gentlemen are big hops growers and were here to get some printing done. They want pickers to harvest their large crop of hops and offer some fine inducements to those who wish to spend a few weeks in the open.

The Catheys, Pastor Leech and L. B. Bain had some very fair sport on their hunting trip in the Cascades near the McKenzie bridge. George Cathey got three fine bucks, Collie got a couple and each of the others got one each. The one the preacher got let all of them shoot and miss and stood for Mr. Leech to get him.

Report comes from the far end of the C. & A. railway that an engine and three cars got scared at something while standing untied near the timber and ran away. The cars finally jumped the track, but the engine kept on the rails. The engineer went down the line about three miles, lassoed the run-aways and brought them back in good shape.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells leave on Thursday morning for Seattle. After a couple of weeks there they will go to Kansas City, to remain until near October 1st. Mr. Wells has a sister there aged 80 years, whom he has not seen since he was fourteen years of age. It is hardly probable that either will recognize the other. Mr. Wells is the youngest of five children, all of whom are alive. He is past 70.

W. S. Sayre, who will handle the prunes from the big orchard north of Corvallis is getting pickers daily, and they are coming from all sections. A party of five is coming from Lents, several coming McMinnville and others from Lebanon. The past few days of cool weather has delayed the first picking day somewhat, but the prunes have begun to take on color and will be ready in a very few days.

At the Palace theater last night Carvar and Oliver, two very clever vaudeville artists, made their initial bow to Corvallis audiences and their comedy playlet entitled "Taming a Husband" was well received. The motion picture program was very good, the pictures being clear and the action good in all of them. Miss Spangler sang a pretty illustrated ballad and altogether the entertainment is worth seeing.

Washington's Plague Spots

Lie in the low, marshy bottoms of the Potomac, the breeding grounds of malaria germs. These germs cause chills, fever and ague, biliousness, jaundice, lassitude, weakness and general debility and bring suffering or death to thousands yearly. But Electric Bitters never fail to destroy them and cure malaria troubles. "They are the best all-around tonic and cure for malaria I ever used," writes R. M. James, of Louellen, S. C. They cure Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Blood Troubles and will prevent Typhoid. Try them, 50c. Guaranteed by all druggists.

RICH AND POOR IN SINGLE DAY

Discoverer of Cripple Creek Gambles $10,000,000 Away in a Night. Man Died Yesterday.

The death of Robert Womack at Colorado Springs yesterday calls to mind a most pathetic story of fortune won and lost in a day. Womack was the discoverer of Cripple Creek and filed on claims worth $10,000,000. While drunk and in a gambling den he sold his claims for $500 and lost that at faro.

Womack was the son of a "Forty-niner," Robert Womack, Sr., who in the latter eighties left to his son the heritage of a dream—that the gold which the father had sought in vain for 40 years would be revealed near Cripple Creek if the son kept up the search. The father died; young Womack took his place as a prospector, and in spite of the jeers of others, ranged close about the Creek country with shovel and divining rod—for 20 years.

One day out he hit the yellow ledge. His friends told him it was "fool's gold;" his brother-in-law and partner took it to the nearest assay office only after five days of protest. He came back with a government certificate to show that the "find" averaged $1100 to the ton.

That news made Bob Womack one day and broke him two days afterward. For, after staking out every claim throughout the length and breadth of the gold lead, he went to town, spent all his nuggets over a bar and at a nearby roulette table, sold all his claims for $500 more in order to make a final wager on the red—and a week later was digging gold with a shovel for the man who had bought his rights to one of the greatest mines the world has ever known.

For the last five years of his life Womack had been too decrepit to work. For two years he had lain bedridden in a little lodging house cared for by an elder sister.

Angell Back In Corvallis

Raycraft of Chicago. The committee met in New York and considered various changes in the basketball rules, but made little variation.

Football Dope.

Director Angell says O. A. C. has a prize in S. S. Metzger, the new football coach, who comes from the University of Pennsylvania. Metzger made a phenomenal record with his team last year and all the east is filled with his praise. They expected to keep him this year and though Metzger is now at Grants Pass handling fruit land, the easterners have not doubted that he would return. Angell's assurance that he had a contract with O. A. C. filled them with chagrin.

The outlook for football isn't particularly good at present. The new Armory is just the size of the football field and is located almost on the old lines. It was intended to locate the new athletic field just south of Waldo hall, but the ground still belongs to M. S. Woodcock. Director Angell has a scheme on foot to induce Capt. McAlexander to have the sides of the Armory work on the roll-top desk plan, and then football could be played in that building.

Director Angell had a pleasant trip east, comes back feeling fine and with a disposition to push athletic work into the life of every student that can be reached.
